Final Closing Date: 03 May 2011

Festivals can be full BEFORE closing date.

Four easy steps to enrol:

Please duplicate the form should you need more space.

About the Workshop Choices

Please send us your Eastern Cape Schools Festival Enrolment form so that we can send you the list of workshop choices as soon as possible. Delegates who make their choices early stand an excellent chance of getting the workshops that appeal to them the most! Delegates can look forward to a vibrant and exciting selection of workshops. The following is a selection of what has been offered in the past:

Spray me Away! – In this fun and interactive workshop you will definitely get your hands dirty! If you want to learn some basic Graffiti skills come join in the fun! As part of this workshop we will debate about Graffiti art and what its position in the Art World is. What do you think? Let's see if Graffiti art really is art, and let's paint with air!

Igniting Writing – This workshop will teach you how to tap into your creativity in a way that suits your personal style. Discover your strengths and weaknesses as a writer and learn to hone in on your strengths for maximum effect!

Play Your Say – Come and express your feelings about the issues you are dealing with, through music and words and movement. Make a statement. Create your own contemporary South African cabaret. Discover the funny and poetic side of life!

Catch Fire – Waya Waya – Catch fire! Click your fingers! Stomp your feet! And join me on this exciting journey of rhythmic explosions... The music that runs through our veins pumping out the rhythm of heart beats, now let's discover what lies within your creative minds... still thinking? Siyavaya!

Break the Chains – Are you tired of the same boring school routine? Well, let's break the chains and bring on change! By using your voice and body and having fun with drama you will discover how much fun learning and especially doing your homework can become. What! Homework and school fun? Sounds like a joke right? Join us to see it to believe.

Anyone Game? – Serious about theatre? Love to act? Or feel like you're not really the creative type? Whether you're a diva or shy of the spotlight, come and experience the magic of drama through games and play. This workshop will help you to overcome your inhibitions and get you going on creating your own characters and stories. Come and be surprised!

and much much more!

Festival Etiquette and Code of Conduct

Please discuss this with pupils before arriving at the festival.

Teachers/chaperones are kindly asked to monitor the behaviour of their delegates in venues.

1. All delegates are subject to the Code of Conduct at all times during the festival. You are kindly asked not to jeopardise future festivals with poor behaviour.
2. Delegates are kindly asked to respect the property of our hosts and not to cause damage to property in any way.
3. Please be punctual for the start of all performances, lectures, and workshops. Latecomers can disturb performers, and organisers reserve the right to keep latecomers out of the theatre venues until a suitable interval. Most productions do not have an interval.
4. Once seated in theatres we ask you to respect the theatre process and not to disrupt the experience of those around you by coming and going during a performance, or engaging in disruptive behaviour e.g. talking.
5. No food or drink may be consumed in theatres or workshop venues.
6. Please understand that in the interests of developing empowered, richer, fuller, human beings it is important to promote socially acceptable modes of behaviour amongst our delegates. We need all delegates to be bright-eyed and refreshed for the busy programme they will have ahead of them; a good night's rest will be imperative during the festival.

By observing these basic courtesies, we hope to establish an audience that is both respectful and sensitive to the needs of performers and fellow audience members, and to promote a more receptive environment where all present may enjoy the event.

Please remember to switch your cell phone OFF and keep it in a safe place!

Thank you
